Foreword

I am pleased to present the NSW Electoral Commission's report on the conduct of the Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward local government by-election held on Saturday, 27 October 2018, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Councillor David Citer.

Councillor Christine Kay was declared elected on Wednesday, 31 October 2018.

I am grateful to the staff, suppliers and contractors who contributed to the successful conduct of this by-election.

Conduct of the election

Background

Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward is a council divided into five wards with 10 councillors. There was one vacancy to be filled for this by-election following the resignation of Councillor David Citer.

Performance

The service standards in the Election Service Charter 2017 – 2020 were applied to the Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward by-election. In summary, the NSW Electoral Commission undertakes to:

- foster participation in the democratic process
- provide seamless service delivery
- be customer focussed and commercially minded
- be innovative and fast adaptors.

The Service Charter can be found at Appendix A.

Communications

Advertising

The 2018 local government by-election advertising campaign for Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward consisted of council-specific statutory advertisements and non-statutory advertising. Non-statutory advertising included information about registering as a third-party campaigner or candidate under the Electoral Funding Act 2018 (EF Act).

Election reminder trial

People enrolled to vote in New South Wales can sign up to the NSW Electoral Commission’s election reminder service. Subscribers to this service receive an email and/or SMS reminder of an upcoming State election and any local government elections relevant to their enrolled address.

For the Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward by-election, we trialled an expansion of the reminder service to all enrolled voters in the ward who had provided email and/or mobile details as part of their enrolment information (7,997 electors, almost 50 per cent of total electors), not just those people who had signed up for the reminder service (652 electors, approximately 4 per cent of total electors). A similar trial was conducted by the Victorian Electoral Commission of their VoterAlert SMS and email notification initiative.

Feedback from electors provided on election day and received by the call centre was resoundingly positive, suggesting the expanded reminder trial was well received.

Election Reminder Service

The NSW Electoral Commission is conducting a trial of the free Election Reminder Service for the Ku-ring-gai St Ives Ward by-election.

You may receive text messages and/or emails reminding you to vote at this by-election.

This service is free to all enrolled voters. You can sign up for this service at elections.nsw.gov.au/remindme

A delayed or not received reminder does not excuse you from voting.

Statutory campaign

Prior to the election the NSW Electoral Commission consulted with Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward to determine in which local newspapers the statutory advertisements, required under the legislation, were to be placed and the frequency of those placements.

Items covered in the statutory advertisements included:

- enrolment on residential and non-residential rolls
- nomination information
- candidates and polling place information
- election results.

Reproductions of these advertisements, and details of their placement in newspapers, can be viewed at Appendices B to E.

Social media

The NSW Electoral Commission utilised social media to raise awareness of the election and inform users of the election reminder service.

There was one Facebook post published for the by-election covering the trial of the reminder service for the by-election. This post is shown below.

Direct communications with political participants

Direct communications to candidates, third-party campaigners and official agents were made for the by-election using email and letters. The direct communications covered the topics of:

- confirmation of candidate and third-party campaigner registrations
- advice to nominated candidates about the requirements to appoint an official agent
- confirmation of official agent registrations
- advice to official agents about the rules for managing the election campaign finances of candidates and third-party campaigners.

Website

A NSW Electoral Commission website was specifically set up for the by-election for stakeholders to source information on:

- the election timetable
- election employment opportunities
- enrolment requirements and online enrolment confirmation
- methods for voting
- political parties
- nomination and registration of candidates, third-party campaigners and donors
- political donations
- list of nominated candidates
- polling place lookup facility
- election results.

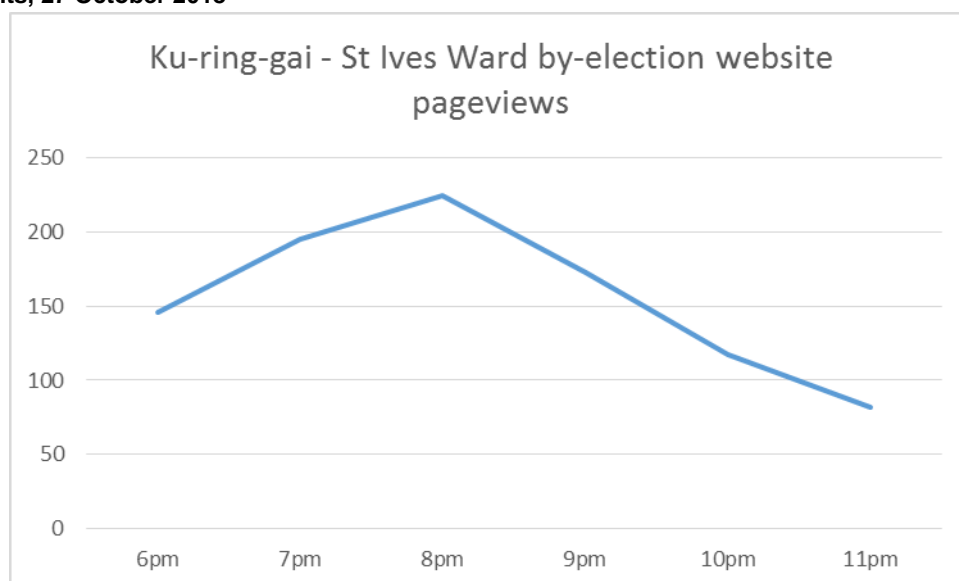

An enrolment search facility on the NSW Electoral Commission website was available to assist electors with verifying their enrolment information.

Polling place information provided on the website included accessibility information for electors with a disability.

Ku-ring-gai Council provided a link on its website to the NSW Electoral Commission site. The NSW Electoral Commission's website experienced 24,302 unique page views in the month leading up to the election.

Use of the NSW Electoral Commission's website is typically greatest on election night, when users seek information on results. The following graph illustrates usage over the period from close of polling to midnight on election night for the by-election. A total of 4,888 page views were recorded on election day.

Graph 1: Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward by-election – Usage of the NSW Electoral Commission Website for Poll Results, 27 October 2018

Registrations

Registration of candidates closed on Wednesday, 26 September 2018. Registration of third-party campaigners closed on Friday, 19 October 2018.

Eight candidates were registered under the EF Act for the by-election.

There was one third-party campaigner registered for the by-election. Following the declaration of the polls, we advised the elected candidate of their obligations under the EF Act as an elected member. The elected member was designated by the NSW Electoral Commission as their own official agent (as an elected member) and has an obligation to disclose on an annual basis (during their term as a councillor) any political donations made or received and electoral expenditure incurred.

Nominations

Nominations closed at noon on Wednesday, 26 September 2018. A total of eight nominations were received by close of nominations.

The draw for ballot paper position, held at 2pm on 26 September 2019, was conducted by the Returning Officer at the Returning Officer's office.

For a nomination to be accepted by the Returning Officer, candidates were required to complete a nomination form and a Candidate Information Sheet. Candidates were also required to pay a nomination deposit of $125 to the Returning Officer.

The nomination deposit is refunded to candidates if:

- a candidate is elected or receives at least 4 per cent of the total first preference votes;
- in a group, any one of the group is elected or receives at least 4 per cent of the total first preference votes; or
- the election is uncontested.

Rolls

Residential roll

In New South Wales, enrolment and voting are compulsory at all federal, state and local government elections. The New South Wales electoral roll is managed by the NSW Electoral Commission in conjunction with the Australian Electoral Commission.

Legislation provides that for local government elections the electoral roll closes on the 40th day before the day of the election. Any person who was on the roll when it closed at 6pm on Monday, 17 September was required to vote.

There were 16,498 electors on the residential electoral roll for Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward. This was a decrease of 102 electors from the number on the roll for the local government ordinary elections in September 2017.

Non-residential roll

The non-residential roll is comprised of the roll of non-residential electors and the roll of occupiers and rate-paying lessees. The non-residential roll lapses after each election. Inclusion on the non-residential roll of electors is available to electors who pay rates to the council on property they own but do not occupy, as well as people who occupy or lease property. Under the Local Government Act 1993, the council's General Manager is responsible for compiling and maintaining the non-residential roll of electors.

There was one elector on the non-residential roll for Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward for the 2018 by-election.

Voting

Method of voting

Section 285 Local Government Act 1993 prescribes that the voting system in a contested election of a councillor or councillors is to be:

- optional preferential if the number of councillors to be elected is one; or
- proportional representation if the number of councillors to be elected is two or more.

For this by-election, optional preferential was the method used. A reproduction of the ballot paper is shown at Appendix F.

Absent voting

Unlike state and federal elections, absent voting is not available at NSW local government elections for electors who are outside their council area or ward on election day.

Early voting

Pre-poll voting

Pre-poll voting opened at 8am on Monday, 15 October 2018 and closed on Friday, 26 October 2018. The pre-poll location was at Ku-ring-gai Returning Officer's Office, 175 Rosedale Road, St Ives NSW 2080

Postal voting

Electors who are registered as a Registered General Postal Voter for NSW State elections are not required to register again for local government elections and were therefore automatically sent postal vote ballot papers.

Applications for postal voters opened on nomination day with electors able to obtain applications from the NSW Electoral Commission website, the NSW Electoral Commission head office or the Returning Officer's office. Applications for postal voting closed on Monday, 22 October 2018.

In order to be admitted to the count, postal votes needed to be received by the Returning Officer by 6pm on Monday, 29 October 2018. Of 937 postal votes issued, 644 were accepted, 139 were rejected and 154 were not scrutinised because they were either returned too late or not returned at all.

Declared Institutions

The Electoral Commissioner has the authority to appoint hospitals, nursing homes, retirement villages and like facilities as Declared Institutions, to assist the residents and/or patients of these facilities who are unable to attend a polling place on election day.

There was one Declared Institution for this election: Fernbank Retirement Village at 2-8 Kitchener Street, St Ives NSW 2075. Election officials visited Declared Institutions from the Monday until Wednesday before election day.

Election day voting

Polling places

Securing appropriate premises for polling places can be difficult. The NSW Electoral Commission does not own facilities within council areas. The pool of available rental premises is limited by the short-term nature of the lease and the NSW Electoral Commission's space, accessibility, location and workplace health and safety requirements.

The NSW Electoral Commission provided council with a draft list of proposed polling places to be used at this election. Feedback from the council was taken into consideration prior to the final selection of polling places.

As far as practically possible, the NSW Electoral Commission aimed to provide accessible and appropriately situated polling places for the by-election. Information was provided to assist electors with mobility issues or other disabilities to locate the most suitable polling place. This access information was provided on the NSW Electoral Commission's website and by NSW Electoral Commission staff.

There were five polling places for the Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward area on election day:

- St Ives Community Hall – Memorial Avenue, St Ives NSW 2075
- St Ives High School – Yarrabung Road, St Ives NSW 2075
- St Ives North Public School – 87 Memorial Avenue, St Ives NSW 2075
- St Ives North Scout Hall – Warrimoo Avenue, St Ives NSW 2075
- St Ives Park Public School – Acron Road, St Ives NSW 2075

Four of these polling places were accessible with assistance and one was not accessible. They were open to electors from 8am to 6pm on election day.

Counting the votes

On election night all polling places conducted an initial sort and count of first preference votes. At the Returning Officer's office, declaration (ie, postal, pre-poll and Declared Institution) votes are opened, sorted and first preferences are counted. The count results were published and updated on the NSW Electoral Commission website on election night from 6pm onwards.

The successful candidate was declared elected by the Returning Officer at 3pm on Wednesday, 31 October 2018, following the statutory 24-hour period required for any recount requests.

Once the declaration of the election result had been signed by the Returning Officer, copies of the declaration were provided to the Electoral Commissioner, the Council's General Manager and the Chief Executives of both the Office of Local Government and Local Government NSW. In addition, the Returning Officer advised all candidates by phone, email or SMS that the election results were available on the NSW Electoral Commission website. Election results were also published in local newspapers.

Non-voters

Failure to vote

Under electoral legislation, the NSW Electoral Commission is required to issue 'failure to vote' notices to those electors whose names were not marked off the electoral roll as having voted or as having provided a valid excuse.

All electoral rolls marked at polling places and in the Returning Officer's office were scanned after election day to create a list of non-voters. The penalty for failing to vote without a valid reason at a local government election is $55.00.

For this election, 2,806 penalty notices were issued within the three-month period after election day.²

² A penalty notice is withdrawn if an elector provides a valid excuse for not voting. At the date of this report the enforcement process for failure-to-vote penalty notices for this by-election had not yet been completed.

Services to candidates and political parties

Candidate information

A candidate information presentation was available on the NSW Electoral Commission website to assist prospective candidates in their preparation for the election.

The presentation provided prospective candidates with the opportunity to familiarise themselves with the candidate process. Major topics covered in the presentation include:

- the election timetable
- candidate eligibility criteria and how to nominate
- campaigning (election advertising, 'how-to-vote' material and public scrutiny of candidates)
- complaints handling by the NSW Electoral Commission
- voting and counting ballot papers
- scrutineers
- election funding obligations.

The NSW Electoral Commission Handbook for Parties, Groups, Candidates and Scrutineers was also made available to stakeholders, outlining relevant electoral processes and procedures for local government elections.

Information about election processes and election campaign finance rules was also provided to candidates, political parties and others who made telephone or email enquiries.

A fact sheet for local government by-elections was published on the website to support candidates and other political participants understand the requirements for managing political donations and electoral expenditure.

How-to-vote material

All electoral material to be distributed by candidates or their representatives on election day must be registered by the NSW Electoral Commission. Registration does not apply to posters, whether they are displayed before or on election day, nor is it required for material to be distributed before election day.

Candidates are required to provide an application form and a copy of each item to be registered. The NSW Electoral Commission provided candidates with guidelines to assist them with meeting the registration requirements. A candidate help line was also set up by the NSW Electoral Commission to aid candidates.

Electoral staffing

Returning Officer

The Returning Officer had a number of responsibilities central to the running of the election, including:

- set up and decommissioning of a temporary office
- training of office staff and polling place managers
- making arrangements for voting at polling places and Declared Institutions
- issuing and processing postal and pre-poll votes
- dealing with enquiries and complaints from candidates and the public
- processing candidate nominations
- counting of votes and declaring the result of the election.

The Returning Officer's office for the Ku-ring-gai – St Ives Ward by-election was located at Ku-ring-gai Returning Officer's Office - 175 Rosedale Road, St Ives NSW 2080.

Returning Officer Support Officer

A Returning Officer Support Officer was appointed in order to provide support to the Returning Officer on electoral matters and procedures in the conduct of the election.

Staffing

Staffing is a significant cost of elections and, as such, the NSW Electoral Commission recognises the importance of accurately predicting the number of required staff while taking into consideration the associated costs without compromising the level of service to electors.

The level of staffing required for the by-election varied during the different phases of the election. Staff were employed to undertake a variety of tasks including:

- office setup
- packing materials for each polling place
- registration, distribution and receipt of postal votes
- operation of pre-poll voting
- visits to Declared Institutions
- counting of the votes
- office pack-up.

All polling places have a minimum of two staff, one of whom is the polling place manager.

Election costs

Councils are required to meet the costs of conducting their elections. While the NSW Government does not provide direct funding for local government elections, some NSW Electoral Commission services required for local government elections, such as enrolment and non-voting services, are provided by the NSW Electoral Commission at no cost. It should also be noted that services provided to candidates, political parties and others regarding the requirements of the EF Act are provided by the NSW Electoral Commission at no cost.

Key cost drivers for the election included:

- election officials wages
- office accommodation for the Returning Officer
- information and technology support
- polling places
- number of electors in council area
- newspaper and elector brochure advertising
- printing/materials for polling places.

The final cost of NSW Electoral Commission conducting the election was $117,800 (GST exclusive).

This was made up of election staffing $72,010; venues $12,509; logistics $3,859; ballot papers and electoral rolls $1,367; other miscellaneous items $16,506 and election management fee $11,549. The cost per elector was $7.14.

Non-residential Rolls

If you are an owner, rate-paying lessee, or occupier of rateable land which is not your primary residence, you or a nominee may be entitled to be enrolled on the roll of non-residential owners of rateable land or the roll of occupiers and rate-paying lessees for this election.

Details of the eligibility criteria and enrolment claim forms may be obtained from Ku-ring-gai Council at 818 Pacific Highway, Gordon, NSW 2072; Website: www.kmc.nsw.gov.au

The claim must be completed and lodged with the General Manager, Ku-ring-gai Council by 6pm Monday, 17 September 2018.

If a claim for non-residential enrolment was made for a previous election, and you wish to claim enrolment for this election, you should re-apply.

Residential Roll

If you are enrolled in the St Ives Ward of the Ku-ring-gai local government area as at 6pm Monday 17 September 2018, you must vote.

To check your enrolment details or to obtain a residential enrolment form visit www.elections.nsw.gov.au or call 1300 135 736. Enrolment forms are also available from any Australia Post office. Enrolment forms must be received by 6pm Monday, 17 September 2018.

Voting in Local Government elections is compulsory for all electors included on the residential roll.
